Canadian Aboriginal Minerals Association

The Canadian Aboriginal Minerals Association has operated for more than 15 years and has a diversified membership of Aboriginal groups, corporations, individual Aboriginals, consultants, and executives. The association organizes and facilitates local, regional and national forums, and has participated in World Bank, UN, and corporate initiatives globally and in Canada. It was successful in guiding Aboriginal groups in Canada's diamond mines to be active and equal partners.

Aboriginal communities and resource companies continue to learn from each other. They are learning what works, and what does not. They are learning how to grow and benefit from the resource sector, while minimizing the negative social, economic and environmental impacts of project and community development. Their success is due, in no small part, to the CAMA'S conferences and educational forums. These forums are held in different locations across Canada each year to ensure all communities have the opportunity to participate and learn. Please renew your CAMA membership today, to continue supporting our efforts.

Benefits of belonging to the Association include:

- Advance notice and discounts on our annual conference and other workshops
- Discounts on CAMA publications, including past conference publications
- The opportunity to provide input that will shape the content and direction of our events

Annual Membership Rates:

- Aboriginal individuals $ 35.00
- Non-aboriginal individuals $ 50.00
- Aboriginal-owned and non-profit corporations $ 100.00
- Non-aboriginal corporations $ 200.00
